Incumbents not filing; 10 file for 4 HA school board seats

Four incumbents on the Hoopeston Area school board will not seek re-election and 10 candidates have filed so far to fill the vacancies.

Incumbents Jerry Bird, on the board since 1985; Gary Miller, a board member since 1989, and Mike Morris and Vickie Ellis, serving since 1993, did not take out petitions for re-election, said Hoopeston Area district secretary Betty Richards.

Four people have filed to run for the seats currently held by Miller and Morris, representing the former Hoopeston School District.

Candidates are Terry Beauvois, Scott Crose, Larry Lobb and Jeff Stipp.

Candidates for Bird and Ellis' seats, considered the out-of-town area, are John Hott, John Smiley, Patti Roberts, Duane Sheppard, Arlyn Rudin and Lisa Austin.

All candidates returned their petitions Monday, the first day to file the documents. "They were all here bright and early," Richards said.

Two others took out petitions, Richards said. Of those, one said he would not run. The other has until 5 p.m. Monday to turn in the petition.

Briefly

Rossville Neighborhood Watch started

ROSSVILLE—Approximately 10 people attended Tuesday's informational meeting on a Neighborhood Watch program in Rossville, said police chief Paul DeWitt.

The group, started by DeWitt, will meet again at 7 p.m. Sept. 11, when DeWitt expects a larger crowd. "It looks like these people who were here are going to set some more to come," he said.

Those who attended Tuesday made suggestions for citizen activities in the village, including a phone tree to check on the elderly, DeWitt said.

Cissna firm buys business

CISSNA PARK—Hicks Oils and Hicksgas, Inc. of Roberts announced the purchase of the Jet Gas propane plant in Hoopeston on July 7.

Hicksgas, a family owned and operated company, has been in the propane business for more than 50 years.

Hoopeston area residents will be served from the Cissna Park office, said Guy Winger, manager of that office. Hours there are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to noon Saturday. The office can be reached at (815) 457-2105.

Hicksgas offers propane for home heating and commercial uses.
